The Raider Review

By JANE GUILL

During this week, February 7-13, students at Appomattox County High School are observing National Vocational Education Week.

Vocational Education Week is for students who are enrolled in vocational courses and/or members of a vocational related club to make the public aware of vocational education in our school system.

At ACHS there are presently, 1387 students enrolled in vocational courses.

The organizations involved have planned numerous activities to commemorate Vocational Education Week. In keeping with the theme: Vocational Education Keeps America Going, displays have been placed in the community as well as the school.

The vocational clubs at ACHS are: Future Homemakers of America (FHA), Future Farmers of America (FFA), Distributive Education Club of America (DECA), Future Business Leaders of America (FBLA), Home Economics Related Occupations (HERO), and Vocational Industrial Clubs of America (VICA). The officers and members of each of the vocational organizations play an important role in the function of the clubs, but without the work of the club sponsors, the clubs would not survive.

Mr. Richard B. Carter is the director of vocational education in Appomattox.

During the week, each club plans to celebrate each day in a different and special way. For example, on Tuesday, FBLA members sponsored Teacher-Appreciation Day. Wednesday was red and white day for FHA and HERO members. Wednesday was also club day and the vocational clubs were able to meet.

The purpose of Vocational Educational week is to engage young men and women in projects that have real meaning in helping them prepare for future responsibilities and jobs. Youth today are living in an ever changing society and vocational education prepares one to meet the challenge. Vocational Education week highlights the importance of vocational education in todays society. Vocational education keeps America working.

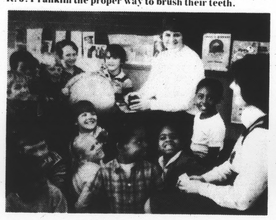
FEBRUARY IS NATIONAL Children's Dental Health Month. The kindergarten students at Appomattox Primary School celebrated this week by having the opportunity to learn more about dental health from Dr. Richard Poe. He is shown teaching Rachel Franklin and R. J. Franklin the proper way to brush their teeth.



MS. LINDA RUFFIN'S second grade class at Appomattox Primary School enjoyed learning about Hawaii from Mrs. Yvonne Franklin, who vacationed there recently. She discussed the history of the Hawaiian people, their customs, the climate, and the industries found there. The children enjoyed learning some Hawaiian words, examining lava, seeing Hawaiian dress, and sampling fresh pineapple. Other second graders also enjoyed sharing Mrs. Franklin's experiences. Many thanks to Mrs. Franklin for enriching us.

Toney honored

Sonya Forcynthia Toney of Buckingham, a student at Virginia Commonwealth University, has been listed in the 1982 edition of Who's Who Among Students In American Universities and Colleges.

She was elected by her campus nominating committees and editors of the annual directory based on academic achievement, service to the community, leadership in extracurricular activities and future potential.

Toney is a senior majoring in rehabilitation services with psychology as a minor. She has been active in VCU's Residence Student Volunteer Program, Residence Hall Association, Ask-It Staff, Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority and Inter-Fraternal Council. She also received the university's leadership and service award last year.

A graduate of Prince Edward County High School, Toney is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Toney Sr.

Middle School PTA to meet on Feb. 15

The Appomattox Middle School PTA meeting will be held on Monday, February 15, at 7:30 p.m. Parents and students attending this meeting will have the opportunity to see the projects on display at the Annual School Science Fair, sponsored by the Science Department.

The Science Fair is open to all students who wish to enter a project. Projects may be selected from these categories: Invertebrates, Zoology, Human Biology, Engineering, Mathematics, Botany, Physics, Chemistry, Biochemistry, Earth and Space Science.

All participants will receive a certificate of recognition, with ribbions being awarded to first, second, and third place finalists.

Class discusses 4-H activities for 1982

By CHERYL SIMPSON

Mrs. Turner's 4-H Club met on February 8, 1982. Share-the-fun was postponed until this week and will be held each day after school.

The 4-H cookie contest will be on Friday. All entries must be in the AES cafeteria by 8:45 a.m. Each entry will receive a ribbon.

A 4-H babysitting workshop will be held in the Appomattox Elementary Library every Tuesday from 3:30 to 5:00 beginning March 9.

A new program is being offered to 4-H members this year. 4-H'ers may order 25 Bicolor Lespedeza seedlings. They will grow 5 to 6 feet tall and provide an excellent food and cover source for wildlife. Bluebird houses are also available this year for interested members.

4-H camp, which will be held July 5-9, will cost $46, if a second member of your family goes it will cost them $41, if a third member of your family attends 4-H camp it will cost them $34.

4-H illustrated talks has now been changed to "Presentations" this allows for a wider range of topics.

Students Give Advice on Using Management at Home

As part of their study of good management techniques, 7th grade Home Economics students wrote articles giving helpful tips for making life easier. Here are some of their ideas:

Simplifying Work
by Jo Anna Layne

"Oh,' I'll never finish cleaning my room!" Have you ever said that before?

Cleaning is not as hard as it seems to be. All that is needed is some planning and a little effort.

You will find that most jobs can be streamlined. Hear are some guidelines that can help you make your work easier.

Plan ahead. Think through what you are going to do before you do it.

Analyze the job you have to do. Think about each setp.

Use the best tool or utensil you have for the job.

Be motion minded. Use both hands whenever you can.

Organize storage areas so items are handy and easy to reach.

Managining Time
by Jennifer Coleman

Have you ever sat in school and day dreamed?

This article might help you to overcome school day dreaming, and help you to use your time wisely.

One thing you could do, would be to make a schedule. Include in it things you should do that particular day and places you have to go? Label your days, and tell how much time you need to complete each activity. There may be days that you don't have anything to do. List other projects or hobbies you may be working on, or would like to work on. In your spare time you can enjoy these.

Making a schedule will help you to avoid "the big rush" and the "I have nothing to do" times.

Managing Cleaning
by Audra Doss

If you are like a lot of other people, your first thought is to do as little cleaning as possible. If you do part of the cleaning at your studying you will better about yourself and probably end up getting better grades, you'll feel better person.

Clean porches, steps, and doormats help to keep dirt from being tracked inside the house. Taking off muddy shoes before coming inside helps also.

Good storage space cuts down on cleaning. When cleaning, you might want to pick up as you go along.

Regular cleaning prevents a lot of hard work later. A thin layer of dust and dirt is easy to clean.

Except for wood surfaces, water is one of the best cleaning agents.

Always read and follow label directions.

Be willing to do some scrubbing.

Change cleaning solutions when water becomes dirty.

Organize your work.

Organizing For Study
by Robin LeGrande

Studying is a skill. As you know you don't learn study skills overnight. It takes time.

You need a warm-up period. Such as athletes warm up before a game, you need to warm up before you start to study. Settling down and thinking about studying usually requires a little effort.

You also need a time for study. Set aside a definite time period for studying. If you keep putting it off you may never get it done.

Third you need a place to study. A quiet place is usually best. Equip your place with tools you need to study. As you begin your study skills try to use the same location each time.

If you organize to do outstanding campus leaders in music.

Her name is included in the 1982 listing based on her academic achievement, service to the community, leadership in extracurricular activities and future potential.

Johnson honored

Deborah Kay Johnson of Appomattox County High School has been named to the 1982 edition of "Who Who in Music," according to a release from the editors of that publication.

Jayvees lose first contest to Altavista

The Raider junior varsity basketball team defeated Altavista and Brookville but lost the first game of this season, to Amherst, in action during the past week.

Ricky Miller, Todd Scruggs, and Gary Ferguson, with 13, 13, and 12 points, respectively, led the Raider in a come-from-behind 57-45 victory over Altavista Tuesday night.

The Raiders trailed by two at the end of the first quarter, and were behind 20-19 as the first half ended. In the third quarter, Altavista maintained their one-point advantage, leading 37-36 at the end of that period. However, in the final period, the Raiders rallied for 21 points, while holding Altavista to eight points, to record the 57-45 victory.

Scoring for the Raiders beside Miller, Scruggs and Ferguson were Louis Preston with 11 points, Tyrone Abbitt with six points and Mike Jackson with two points.

The Raiders hit 13 of 28 freethrows for a 46 percent foul shot performance, Coach John Pettyjohn commended Louis Preston for his outstanding defensive play during the game. Preston contributed a great deal to the pressure defense which turned the tide in favor of the Raiders in the final period of play, according to the coach.

The shoe was on the other foot against Amherst, which pressured the Raiders into the first loss of their season, 44-43, last Wednesday night.

The Raiders jumped into an early lead, leading 10-6 in the first quarter and 17-16 at the end of the first half. In the third quarter, however, Amherst battled back and assumed a six-point lead, 32-26. The Raiders fought Amherst's pressure defense in the final period and came within a single point of sending the game into overtime, but the local team's efforts fell just short and the Raiders recorded the first loss of their season, 44-43.

Gary Ferguson and Tyrone Abbitt scored in double figures for the Raiders, with 12 and 11 points, respectively. Others scoring for the Raiders were Todd Scruggs and Ricky Miller with eight points each, and Louis Preston, with four points.

"We were having a hard time hitting our outside shots for a while," said Coach Pettyjohn after the game. "They did a good job of pressuring us in the second half."

The Raiders hit on seven of 14 foul shots for a 50 percent freethrow performance against Amherst. Coach Pettyjohn commended Tyrone Abbitt for his defensive efforts against Amherst.

The Raiders had a much easier time against Brookville, which fell to Appomattox 59-41 Friday night.

Gary Ferguson scored 20 points, and Tyrone Abbitt and Ricky Miller each scored in double figures with 12 and 10 points, respectively, in the Raiders' fourteenth victory of the season.

The Raiders dominated in the first half, leading 9-1 and 29-10 at the end of the first quarter and the first half. Appomattox had extended its lead to 43-26 by the end of the third quarter. In the final quarter, the Raiders scored 13 points to Brookville's 15 points to ice the game, 59-41.

Scoring for the Raiders besides Ferguson, Miller and Abbitt were Todd Scruggs with eight points, Louis Preston, Mike Jackson, Tim Austin and Steve Hamlett, with two points each, and John Hurt with one point.

The Raiders went five for 11 at the freethrow line for a 46 percent foul-shot average. Coach Pettyjohn commended Todd Scruggs and Ricky Miller for their defensive play against Brookville.

This week the Raiders were scheduled to play Liberty and Gretna Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, after the Times-Virginian deadline.

Friday night the team will face off against Buckingham at home.

Raiders slip past Amherst

The Raider varsity basketball team scored a dramatic fifth-overtime victory against Amherst last Wednesday night, following the team's third defeat of the season in Tuesday's game against Altavista.

"We never really got on track the whole night against Altavista," Coach Coty Dickerson said this week about the Raiders' Tuesday loss. "They (Altavista) got hot early in the game, and built up a solid lead. We just never got heated up."

Altavista jumped to an early lead, which stood at 12-8 at the end of the first quarter. In the second period, the Colonels extended their lead, which stood at 26-14 by the end of the first half.

The Raiders warmed up somewhat in the second half, scoring ten points in the third period and 20 in the final period. However, the Colonel lead was too great for the late Raider rally, and Altavista upset the local team, 54-44.

Jeff Miller was the leading scorer for the Raiders against Altavista, with 12 points during the night. Dennis Fleshman was second highest Appomattox scorer with eight points, and Kim Humbles third highest scorer, with six points.

High scorer for Altavista was Bruce Goldsmith, with 16 points scored during the night.

The following night, the Raiders fought a tough Amherst team which had just defeated Seminole District leader Nelson County. Amherst was leading with seconds to go, when the Raiders' Dennis Fleshman collected a rebound and headed down the court to score and send the game into the first of five overtime periods. In the end, the Raiders would prevail, 66-65, in a game which Coach Coty Dickerson described as "the most dramatic high school basketball game" he had ever seen.

The Raiders were hitting well early, and opened up a slight lead in the first quarter, scoring 18 points to Amherst's 14. In the second period of play, Amherst came back, scoring 17 points to the Raiders' 11 to carry a 31-29 lead into the locker room at half time.

Amherst extended their lead in the third period, scoring 11 points while holding Appomattox to seven.

But the Raiders exploded for 19 points in the final period of regulation play, while holding Amherst to 13 points.

Then began a game of pure strategy. The two teams traded shots through four overtimes, and 17 times-out, before Kim Humbles sank a basket with three seconds remaining to give the victory for the Raiders.

Humbles scored an amazing 37 points, including nine of the 11 overtime points, to lead Raider scorers in the Amherst game. Rick Caldwell and Ron Carter each scored nine for the Raiders, Jeff Miller scored five, Dennis Fleshman four and Norman Turner two.

"We were thankful we had a game Wednesday night, after the flat game Tuesday night," said Dickerson. "Both teams played very well, and in a game like that there really aren't any losers," the coach continued. He added that both teams displayed good sportsmanship, despite the tension wrought by the five overtimes.

The Raiders are scheduled to play Buckingham Friday night, in the final home game of this season for Appomattox.

Next Tuesday, Appomattox will travel to Rustburg, and next Friday night the Raiders will take on Buckingham for the final game of the regular season.

The Seminole District tournament is scheduled to begin Feb. 23 a the E. C. Glass High School gymnasium in Lynchburg.

Girls beat Nelson

The Raiderette volleyball team continued their winning ways by defeating Nelson County in a regular season game Thursday night. Their 15-3, 15-10, 15-3 victory in the best of 5 match, boosted their record to 3-0 in district action.

The key to the Raiderette win was strong serving. Top sorcerers were Rhonda Jaggers with eleven serving points, and Ruby Smith and Angie Murray with nine points each.

Angie Murray and Patty Roach had eleven and ten good sets, respectively. Because of these sets, Angie Moore, Ruby Smith, Rhonda Jaggars, and Suzan Eye combined to have fifteen spikes that scored or were not returned.

Angie Moore had three spikes, all of which scored.

Monday night the Raiderettes and Liberty battled for 5 games with Liberty finally nipping the Raiderettes, Games scores were 8-12, 15-8, 8-14, 15-3, 9-11.

Ruby Smith had 17 scoring serves. She was followed by Suzan Eye with 8 points.

Angie Murray had 24 sets which resulted with 64 spikes from Ruby Smith, Rhonda Jaggars, Angie Moore, and Suzan Eye.

The record of the Raiderette team after this loss is 3-1 in district action.

The Raiderettes travel to Altavista on Thursday and to the Nelson County gym on Monday.
